Currently, Ceres has removed more than 600,000 cubic yards of debris from public and private roads and rights-of-way throughout the County. At this time, the cleanup effort is expected to last four to six months.

In observance of the Thanksgiving holiday, disaster debris removal operations will temporarily discontinue from Wednesday, November 23 through Friday, November 25, in the City of Beaufort, the Town of Port Royal, the Town of Bluffton and unincorporated Beaufort County, including Daufuskie Island. Disaster debris removal operations will resume on Saturday, November 26.

To expedite recovery, officials encourage residents to follow curbside debris removal guidelines for the separation and removal of debris.

Residents are encouraged to visit the Beaufort County disaster recovery website at beaufortcountydasterrecovery.net.
