Currently, Ceres has removed more than 900,000 cubic yards of debris from public and private roads and rights-of-way throughout the County. At this time, it is expected that debris removal operations from rights-of-way should be complete by the end of February. Marine debris removal operations are expected to take longer.

In observance of winter holidays, disaster debris removal operations will temporarily discontinue from Friday, December 23 through Monday January 2, in the City of Beaufort, the Town of Port Royal, the Town of Bluffton and unincorporated Beaufort County, including Daufuskie Island. Disaster debris removal operations will resume on Tuesday, January 3.

To expedite recovery, officials encourage residents to follow curbside debris removal guidelines for the separation and removal of debris.

Residents are encouraged to visit the Beaufort County disaster recovery website at beaufortcountydasterrecovery.net.
